Portfolio: LucasFreigenberg.dev

Web developer building a more intuitive user experience for clients. Recently earned a certificate in full stack development from the University of Utah 2U Coding Bootcamp, with newly developed skills in modern JavaScript, CSS, React.js, and responsive web design. Consistently named Team Lead because of go getter energy and wellness to try new things and learn new skills. Always up to take the hardest jobs in projects to challenge knowledge and become better. Every project has the intention of having a simple and clean UI with mobile first development. The experience on leading teams of four to five developing websites using Git and liveshare allows for better understanding on how to work well as a team during development.
